ADDITIONAL MEDICAL DISCLAIMER NOTES

Statements on this website have not been approved by the FDA – the Food and Drug Administration or other government health departments. The affiliate products sold are not intended to diagnose, cure, treat, or prevent any disease. No product can seriously claim to do so – too many factors are involved for each and every individual.

Any product claim, statistic, quote or other representation about a product or service should be verified with the manufacturer, provider or party in question. The information provided on this website is for informational purposes. Information is not intended as a substitute for advice from a qualified healthcare professional, and should not be construed as individual medical advice. If you are under a doctor’s care, please consult with her/him prior to use of these products.

If a condition persists, please contact a qualified healthcare professional for advice. Any statements on this website are said in a general way only and certain words such as cure, treatment, etc. were used in sentences that reported what others said.

They do not necessarily represent the beliefs of the writer of this site and may not have the same meaning and definition as given to them by the FDA or other health departments of other governments around the world, and so do not guarantee in any way, shape or form that you will get the same results as others have gotten from the wonderful products featured in the separate product sales section on this site.

The information on this website should not be used to diagnose, or for treatment, prevention, or an attempt to cure yourself or anyone else. The website information is for historical interest only.

All serious health conditions should be treated by a competent health care practitioner. The editor of this website in no way dispenses medical advice, nor prescribes remedies, or assumes responsibility for those who choose to treat themselves or others. Any holistic medicine support options mentioned on this site include conventional therapies also because they are alternatives to the natural forms of therapy.

The information on this website has not been evaluated or approved by any government health authority in the English speaking world. But the editor of this website has gone to great lengths to comply with company laws and the laws of various governments.

Furthermore, the information on this website should not be construed to be an incentive to purchase any product. No holistic healthcare practitioner support healing product is sold from contextual affiliate links within the informational written portion of the website. Very legal pains were taken to make this so. The sales portion is separated from the literature section like a legal arrangement takes place in a health food store.

It is legal in all health food and natural supplement stores to have a book rack & a free literature rack in one part of the store and a product section in the other part.

The written and edited main content portion of this website is the free literature rack that you can browse through and read for free. But the affiliate product advertisement and linked separate product websites section is separate from the free literature section on this website and can only be accessed with a link advertisement found in this separate section on our website.

Therefore, a legal separation has been created just as it exists in a health supplements store that is complying with legal requirements.

In legally arranged health supplement stores they do not tell you to not use the information in the book rack or free literature stand as an incentive to buy their products as we have told you, therefore, what we are doing and saying on this site is even more legal than what they do in a health supplements store. It's against the law in some countries for us to give you any personal recommendations. So we will not do that.

Furthermore, statements about the effectiveness of certain therapies or disease relief products on this website are not our own but are those from various reputable newsletters or books. These are all very informative about the realm of natural and holistic alternative medicine. Furthermore, anything on this website that is mentioned as being able to help with sickness relief of any kind should not be interpreted as being able to diagnose, treat, prevent or cure any disease.

They only should be interpreted as being supports that can help your body heal itself or give relief to it as a result of these products or methods supporting various therapies. This wording and interpretation are legal and permissible in all the English speaking countries of the world even in the one that is the most totalitarian when it comes to restricting health care choices. We make no warranties for the completeness or the accuracy of the contents of this website.

We accept no liability for any losses that may be caused or interpreted and alleged to be caused by the use the information on this site. Some of the therapies listed on this website support slower relief and others support faster disease symptom relief.

All statements on our website have not been evaluated by the Food and Drug Administration in the United States (FDA). They have not been approved by them and the same is true of the Canadian, Australian, New Zealand, United Kingdom, South African, Belizean etc. health authorities.

We believe that by complying with the FDA, since it is the strictest, we are also complying with the Canadian authorities and the health authorities in all the English speaking world also.

We are setting an example for the non-religious entities that are under these laws and hope everyone complies so that peace exists between everyone.
